Introducing Umami

Umami was designed to create spaces where people feel an emotional connection. Informal spaces that promote social interactions, stimulate the brain and enhance creativity.

Modularity. Materiality. Performance.

Umami's flexible, modular design can be used to create spaces that are unique to organizations and individuals.

Multiple shapes, forms, patterns and textures are used to promote variation over uniformity. A wide variety of material options are available, encouraging creativity and self-expression.

Integrated power and sculpted design supports physical comfort and ability to perform. Screens create a range of privacy and balance the desire for openness with the human need for solitude.

Purposeful work deserves meaningful places that bring together design, performance and materiality - because how a space performs is just as critical as how it looks and feels.

STATEMENT OF LINE

SUSTAINABILITY

At its heart, sustainability at Steelcase is about people. It's about creating and supporting the economic, environmental and social conditions that allow people and communities to reach their full potential.

Research and insights direct our path. It's not only about creating goods, it's about creating good. It's not only about creating value, it's about living our values. It's not just about reducing our footprint, it's about expanding our reach. It's about creating lasting and meaningful change to enable the long-term wellbeing of current and future generations.

Innovative products and solutions result. In the development of our products, we work to consider each stage of the life cycle: from materials extraction, production, transport, use and reuse, until the end of its life. We demonstrate performance through third-party verified certifications and voluntary product declarations.

Steelcase's sustainability promises, actions, and results are communicated in an annual Corporate Sustainability Report.
